

What makes you curious?

A toast to a new way of drinking!

As a world famous explorer, you have made quite a few exciting discoveries during your career. But this latest discovery is one of the most exciting! You have discovered an animal that has an entirely new way of drinking water! Draw your new animal below (or make a model). How does it drink water? Does it use a tool (like a cup shaped object) or does it have special modifications on its body? Or both?
